THE INTERVIEW

Mrs. Diane Queen
7, Montage Place
WC1B 3DG London
United Kingdom

Mr. James Farrell
27, North Street
NW1A 4ZH Birmingham
United Kingdom

January 6, 2016

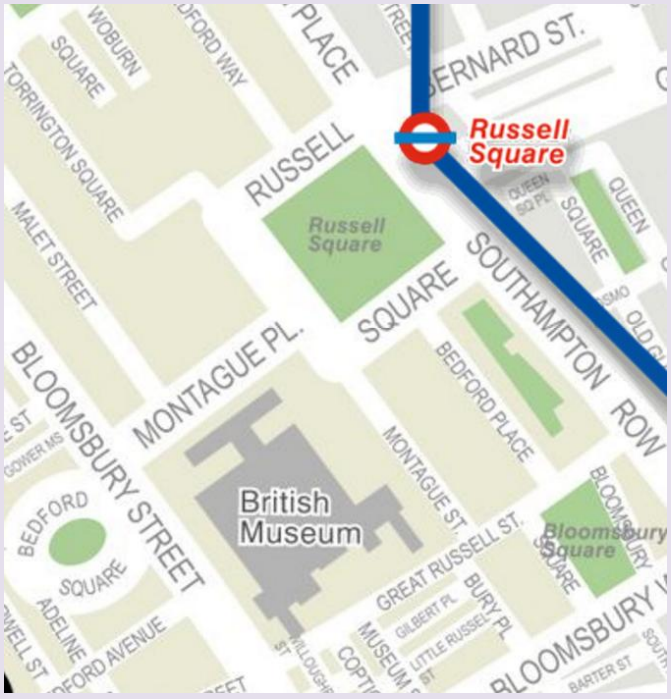
Dear James,

Thanks for your e-mail. Please come for an interview at 10.45 a.m. on Thursday the 23rd of February at our office in The British Museum.

The nearest underground station is Russell Square, it's about 800 meters from the Museum. (Look at the map)

When you are at the station, go ahead, cross Southampton Row and walk along Russell Square for about 50 meters. Then, cross Montague Street and continue on Montague Place. There is the entrance.

Enter the museum at the King Edward entrance that is at the back of the museum (at 7, Montague Place). Pass the security point and go upstairs. Our office is on the second floor, room number 16-B, opposite the lift.



Yours sincerely,

Diane Queen

The Giant Panda

Giant Pandas are native to central China. "Daxiongmao" is the Chinesse word for the Giant Panda. They live in the mountains, in the cool and wet forests with lots of bamboo.

Giant Pandas are black and white bears.
Males can weigh up to 160 kg, and most females are 20% smaller than the males.

They eat bamboo, but they also eat some meat.

They live around 20 years in the wild and up to 30 years in captivity. They are quiet animals, but they are also very good at climbing and swimming!

According to the Guinness World Records, Jia Jia is the oldest panda living in captivity. It lives in a zoo in Hong Kong. The 28th of July Jia Jia celebrated its 37 birthday with a big cake made of ice and fruits juice!

Unfortunately, they are in danger of extinction. Their main enemy is man. Humans are destroying their natural habitat and now pandas are living in reduced areas and they must share bamboo with monkeys and other animals.

18. Where do Giant Pandas live?

A. In the mountains and in the forests.
B. In all the forests with bamboo.
C. In the mountains with hot forests.
D. In the mountains with wet forests.

19. Circle the correct answer:

A. Females are taller than males.
B. Males are bigger than females.
C. Males are smaller than females.
D. Females are bigger than males.

20. Complete:

Giant Pandas are quiet animals, but they can _____ and _____ very well.

21. Jia Jia is...

A. the first panda in Hong Kong.
B. a very young panda.
C. a very old panda living in freedom.
D. the oldest panda living in a zoo.

22. Why are pandas living in reduced areas?

A. Because humans are destroying their habitat.
B. Because there are too much monkeys.
C. Because bamboo is in danger of extinction.
D. Because pandas are in danger of extinction.
