Mr. James Farrell
27, North Street
NW1A 4ZH Birmingham

January 6, 2016

Dear James,

Thanks for your e-mail. Please come for an interview at 10.45 a.m. on Thursday the 23rd of February at our office in The British Museum.
The nearest underground station is Russell Square, it's about 800 metres from the Museum. (Look at the map)
When you are at the station, go ahead, cross Southampton Row and walk along Russell Square for about 50 metres. Then, cross Montague Street and continue on Montague Place. There is the entrance.
Enter the museum at the King Edward entrance that is at the back of the museum (at 7, Montague Place). Pass the security point and go upstairs. Our office is on the second floor, room number 16-B, opposite the lift.

Yours sincerely,
Diane Queen

Markus Persson

This man, with his black hat, black T-shirt and thick beard is a young millionaire who lives in Beverly Hills, California.

Do you recognize him?

He was born in Sweden, in 1979, and he lived in a small town next to the forest. His father was a railway employee and his mother was a nurse.

Do you recognize him now?

He is Markus Persson, also known as "Notch". He is a 37 year-old designer and video game programmer. He is the creator of Minecraft, a popular game that has become an international success.

When he was a child he loved playing Legos but at the age of eight his father bought a computer and his life changed. The first time he programmed a video game he was only eight!

Minecraft was done in just a week, and it is inspired by Legos and the forest that was next to his village. Now Markus Persson is considered the first superstar computer game developer.

But why is Minecraft so popular?

There are many reasons. The first one is that Minecraft is a digital Lego game. You can build all that you can imagine. The second is that it's free, it hasn't got a specific objective, and the third reason is that it is a cheap game.

Arthur Williams

18. Where did Markus Persson live?

A. In a little town next to the forest.
B. In a forest, next to a small town.
C. In a big forest, next to a town.
D. In a little town next to a little forest

19. Why did Markus Persson's life change when he was 8?

A. Because he played Lego.
B. Because his father bought a computer.
C. Because he was 8 years old.
D. Because his mother was a nurse.

20. How long did Markus Persson take to create Minecraft?

21 . What is Minecraft inspired on?

A. On Lego and on his village.
B. On his village and a video game.
C. On the forest and his village.
D. On Lego and the forest.

22. Complete:

Arthur Williams thinks that the third reason why Minecraft is so popular is that it isn't _____.
